WHEELING, WEST VA., SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 1, 1876.

The Coming Fourth in This Region.

Next Tuesday will be by all odds the biggest day ever known in all the cities, town and villages of the country. There is scarcely a locality where the people have not become enthused. In some cases the towns and villages adjacent to cities will merge themselves in the larger demonstrations, which is the proper thing to do, and thus contribute their local patriotism to that of the general mass. We trust that many of our Ohio neighbors will fall into ranks with us on that day, especially our Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry friends, and help both us and themselves to do full justice to the great occasion. Our Beliaire neighbors will probably not visit us as largely on the Fourth as many of them would like to do, owing to the fact that they facted to have a big day on During the afternoon the Calathum-Loring the contract of the streets in citizen's dries. DEATH OF C. OGLEBAY, Esq. The declining health of this prominent and in-fluential citizen of Wheeling has been once or twice alluded to of late in our olumns, but notwithstanding this fact the community was not prepared for the of his demise was abroad on the street caused perhaps by the knowledge on the dying condition.

Mr. Oglebay was born in Bedford county, Pennsylvania, on the 18th of July, 1818, but spent most of his in Eastern Ohio. For many years he was engaged in the leaf tobacco trade in Monroe county, and still lafer he was engaged in the wholesale grocery, forwarding and commission business at Bridgeport, in connection with the firms of Rhodes & Oglebay, Oglebay, Atkinson & Co., and Oglebay & Watson. He was

About the close of the war Mr. Oglebay nember of the wholesale grocery house of Paxton & Oglebay, and, still later, C. Oglebay. Son & Co. The present firm is C. Ogle bay & Sons, and it is one of the most prominent houses in the city. The head of the house, Mr. C. Oglebay, was the Works at the time of his death, and wa for several years President of the Com-pany. He was also a large stockholder in the Bellaire Iron and Nail Works, and for two years past has been at the head of that concern. He was likewise a large holder of stock in the Nationa Bank of West Virginia and President of the institution.

As an active, energetic and inde-fatigable business man, Mr. Ogle-bay had not his superior in the city. Whatever his hands found to do he did with all his might. This was the secret of his success in business. He was a thorough merchant, ardently devoted to his duties, and always on time in whatever he engaged. His knowledge of the business of this whole region of ountry, both in the way of merchandizing and manufacturing, was perhaps superior to that of any citizen of Whee ing, which is saying a good deal.

For a year past the health of Mr Oglebay has been visibly breaking, and et he could not be persuaded the necessity that was upon him to business and seek relaxati ov travel and rest from his excessive laors. His belief was that his ailme was not of a serious character, and that he could recuperate whenever he cho to devote himself to that object. But in this he made a serious mistake, as the

WHY XARAN WAS REMOVED.

It is stated by personal friends of the President that the cause of the removal of H. J. Yaryan, Chief of the Special Agency Division of the Internal Revenue Bureau, was his procuring the removal of a special agent recommended by the President, a man crippled in war, and whose character was known by the President to be excellent, and also youched for by Solicitor Wilson. Mr. Yaryan's attention being called to this removal, he assigned as a reason for it that the special agent had yolunteered some testimony before a House committee reflecting on him. The President inquired into the mm. The President inquired into the matter and found that the witness was subponed to testify before the committee and that after stating that he knew nothing of his own knowledge concerning the subject of investigation, he had been compelled by the committee to give the names of some persons who had charged with the supervision of its corlection.

We wish to emphasize the last that Mr. Hendricks is one of the most prominent leaders or spokesmen of paper swindlers and as such was their candidate for the first place on the licket, but now has been put off with the second. Humbug thy name is the Democratic reform, gold and paper contraction and inflation, reform and swindle. Let us have it all. How many men of sense will be found to join this absurd chorus? Evidently the nomination of Hendricks was a matter concerted beforehand. A bargain and sale bare of all honor and full of shame. A blow in the very face of all who saw in Tilden the embodiment of honest reform. For the time being there is an end to all honest reform ou the Democratic side, and the truly independent citizens who do not believe they can serve two masters will have to look in another direction, and centre their hopes elsewhere.
